Woman's Club

Holds Its Annual Birthday Luncheon Wednesday

Seventy-five ladies attended the annual birthday luncheon of Torrance Woman's Club which was held in their clubhouse, 1422 Engracia avenue, Wednesday. Tables were decorated for the 12 months of the year. All were original and particularly beautiful. October, with its wealth of gold and silver fruit, oak leaves intermingled and a white oval basket of yellow roses at one end of the table was most striking. November's horn of plenty with wicker fruit, June with her roses. Ladies were seated at the table decorated for the month in which they were born.

Mrs. Jesse Bond Pawsion, who is the make-up artist at Hemet's famous Ramona Pageant, was the speaker. She urged women to attend the performance and offered special rates to groups of 25 or more.

Torrance high school Madrigal singers, directed by Mrs. Margery Elschen, sang a group of three numbers. They sang, "How Shall I Fitly Meet Thee" by Brown, "Create In Me" by Brawn and "Violin Singing In The Street." Mrs. George Elder gave an interesting Bible talk. She chose to speak on "Mothers of the Bible," reminding members that Mother's Day is May 12.

Mrs. Juliette Johnson and Mrs. May Sidebotham gave interesting reports of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs convention in Santa Monica. Mrs. Johnson announced that the district garden club will meet in Torrance Theatre, Tuesday, May 14, at 10:00 a. m.

The result of the club's election of officers for the new year was as follows: Mrs. M. J. Beale, second vice president; Mrs. Emma Briney, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Howard Locke, treasurer; Mrs. Esther Lowen, auditor; Mrs. Carrie Parks, parliamentarian; Mrs. Thelma Higgins, ways and means; and Mrs. Dorothy Jamieson, corporation director.

American Legion Auxiliary News

Remember way back when ladies decorated the box lunches to catch the eye of a favorite suitor? This was all recalled Monday evening when members of the American Legion Auxiliary entertained the Legionnaires. Boxes were elaborately decorated, but not always was the best lunch concealed in the loveliest box. However, each Legionnaire purchased a box and ate with the lady who packed it.

Sixty persons attended the affair and joined in the dancing and games. Music for dancing was furnished by Tom Ulrich, Fred Ralston and Morris Parks. A prize in the cake walk was won by Mrs. Alice Thomas. Game prize went to Mrs. Addie Modglin.

Monday evening, May 6, is the regular business meeting. Members will vote on changing the night of meeting.

County council meeting will be held in Patriotic hall, Los Angeles, Friday, May 3, at 10:30 a. m.

Our Juniors Junior Auxiliary will hold their regular meeting in American Legion hall, Monday, May 6, at 3:30 p. m.

Gratifying Success For First Symphonic Concert In Torrance

Most gratifying success attended the first symphonic concert ever presented in Torrance, given last Friday night at the Woman's Club clubhouse, before an appreciative audience. The orchestra, made up of local musicians, was organized two months ago under the direction of George Mershon, former instructor in music at Des Moines, Iowa University, and has been working steadily since then in preparation for this event. The audience, which filled the clubhouse, was delighted with their work, and is looking forward to their second appearance, which will be made in a short time.

AMELIA CARR AT HOME

Amelia Carr, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carr, is happy to be at home again. She is quite confident that the broken ankle which has caused her a great deal of trouble is at last on the mend. Some time ago Amelia sustained a broken ankle. Since then she has made two trips to the orthopedic hospital, Los Angeles, where each time it was necessary to reset the bone.

THEATRE PARTY DINNER AT HOME

The birthday of B. W. Lanz was celebrated with a theatre party, the group attending the presentation of "Pobacco Road" at the Belasco Theatre, Los Angeles, Saturday evening. A steak dinner at the Lanz home, 1448 Engracia avenue, was served at midnight. In the party were Messrs. and Mesdames B. L. Lanz, John McMillan, Sam Levy, J. W. Post and C. Tiltonson, of Huntington Park.

SHOWER HONORS MRS. SHAFFER

A luncheon and stork shower at the home of Mrs. James Scott, 2415 Sonoma avenue, Saturday, was given as a courtesy to Mrs. Eugene Shaffer. Covers were placed at the luncheon table for Mesdames Eugene Shaffer, Roland Sanderhoff, Ralph Satchel, Charles A. Curtiss, Paul Vanderah, Douglas Collins, Leigh R. Drake, Al Harder, Baker Smith, Clarence Ingold, E. L. Patterson, Louis Cheadle, Herbert Summers, Dewey Quigley, Bronson Buxton, James Scott, Miss Margot Buxton, and Mrs. Johnson Calhoun, of Long Beach.

Mershon, former instructor in music at Des Moines, Iowa University, and has been working steadily since then in preparation for this event. The audience, which filled the clubhouse, was delighted with their work, and is looking forward to their second appearance, which will be made in a short time.

J. G. Koeh, head of the Star Furniture Company, was so pleased with the venture that he announced that evening his donation of $25 to the cause, and a check for the amount was placed in the hands of the orchestra founder the following day.

Other music patrons of the city are following his generous example, and announce their intention of assisting with the financing of this meritorious group is expected from the city, which recognizes its value in the cultural life of the community.

Rev. George G. Elder, who acted as master of ceremonies on Friday night, gave an eloquent introduction of the symphony expressing very aptly what good music means to the community, and praising Mr. Mershon for his hard work with the group, many of whose members have never done work of this kind.

Madame Teala Billini, concert pianist, who was an interested listener at the concert, says: "It is surprising what Mr. Mershon has done in such a short time. The players watched their deft attack and rhythmic response was surprisingly good. Tonal balance was unusual in such a new organization and the melodic line was always well in evidence. Their first number, 'Lustspiel' overture by Beethoven was played with good balance and tone.

"The Long Beach String quartet next presented a group of three numbers, 'Sally In Our Alley' by Bridges; 'Intermezzo' from Quartet Opus 15, by Mendelssohn; and 'Prink to Me Only With Thine Eyes.' This quartet does excellent work. Their tonal quality is very good and their playing is artistically phrasing and interpretation."

"March a la Turca," by Mozart, played by the orchestra, closed the first half of the program.

During the intermission Rev. Elder presented Ralph Thomas, teacher of Paul Gilliam, noted soloist. Mr. Thomas, tenor vocal teacher and critic of Long, was most enthusiastic in praise of the venture and the lovely work of the quartet. Rev. Elder then called upon Madame Teala Billini, concert pianist and teacher; Mrs. Kathryn Buffington, pianist and teacher of piano, and Mrs. Alice Hazel, vocalist and teacher of voice and piano, for comment. Each expressed their appreciation of Mr. Mershon's work with the orchestra.

The second part of the program presented Paul Gilliam, tenor, in three numbers with orchestra accompaniment, "La Donna Mobile" from Rigolotti, "Glow Worm" and "I'll Wait For You." For his second group Mr. Gilliam sang "M'Appari" from Martha and "I Love Life" with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Mildred Thorpe. In commenting on Mr. Gilliam's work later, Madame Billini said: "Mr. Gilliam has a lovely natural voice, and should go far. Although he was handicapped by a bad cold Friday night he made a pleasing impression and was enthusiastically received. Mrs. Thorpe's accompaniments for both orchestra and vocal numbers were sympathetic and well played. As the orchestra grows in experience and training it will develop the color contrast it now lacks and will learn to keep accompaniments more in the background. Mr. Mershon is an able conductor and is to be congratulated upon the results he has obtained in such a short time."
